

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

At the very beginning, I take the privilege to convey my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to my Supervisor Prof. V.P. Singh, Head and Co-ordinator of Center for Globalization and Development studies, University of Allahabad and Co-Supervisor Prof. Gopalji Mishra, Dean, J.S. School of Social Sciences, Assam University, Silchar, for their excellent co-operation, valuable suggestion and their guidance which helped me during the entire work. Without their constant advice, encouragement and continuous efforts this work would not have possible. I express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. G.P. Pandey, Department of Mass Communication, Assam University, Silchar, for his valuable suggestions to complete the entire work.

I am very much thankful to all the faculty members of the Department of Sociology, Assam University, Silchar, for their suggestion and help during my research work.

I express my thanks to all the staff, Department of Sociology, Assam University, Silchar, for their help in various official matters.

As the present work is an empirical one and based on field work of the study area, I owe my special thanks to the villagers of Mogroi village.

My Special thanks to Laky, Pankaj Da, Biswa Da, Amulya Kr. Bora, Santosh Da, Avan, Lalit, Kanchan Da, Mitali Ba, Priya, Nabin Da, Rabha Da, Ujjal Da, Jintu Da and all my friends for their moral support and encouragement to complete my research work.

Finally, I am especially grateful to my Father Binanda Gogoi, Mother Muhini Phukan Gogoi, my brother Poresh Gogoi and other family members and relatives for their inspiration, support and help at every stage.

Last, but not least, I would be thankful to Nilu for Computer assist and printing the scripts nit and clean.
