

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This effort is dedicated in the name of those, who helped and guided me to build a strong foundation in this particular sociological study.

I feel extremely fortunate in getting the insightful guidance and stimulating supervision of Prof. V P Singh, HOD, Centre for Globalization and Development Studies Centre, Allahabad University. In completion of this study, he has been kind in providing his valuable time which was of great avail to me in developing the basic theoretical orientation. I owe to him a very special and lavish sense of gratitude.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Co-supervisor Prof. Gopalji Mishra, HOD, Department of Social Work, Assam University, Silchar for his guidance and encouragement towards my research.

I must express my profound gratitude to all my teachers of the Department of Sociology, Assam University for their consistent help rendered to me. Their creative response has enabled me to complete my work.

I owe my special thanks to the officials of District Rural Development Agency (DRDA) of Jorhat, Kaliayapani Development Block and No. 7 Pachim Teok Gaon Panchayat for their help in my research. I am especially grateful to my father Late Surendra Nath Boruah and mother Mrs. Bulumoni Moni Boruah and relatives for their constant encouragement and inspiration in completion of this study.

I am also grateful to Dr Prodip Kr. Sarma, Dr Rajen Borah, Akhil Borah, Pankaj Goswami, Debojit Borah, Binod Konwar, Amulya Kr. Bora, Rituparna Hazarika, Biswajit Bora, Tapan Saikia, Santosh Bora, Phirmi Bodo, Mitali Konwar, Bhotima, Kanchan, Lalit, Dino, Abilupta, Rani, Dhun, Zoo, Purna, Junti, Bidyut, Diganta, Ananta, Mintu and all my friends for their encouragement towards my research work.

In the end, I am grateful to the employees of Silchar Sungraphics for spending lots of time on their computer and binding it out.

Pankaj Boruah