DEDICATION

This thesis is dedicated to the treasured memory of my late parents Sarthe Rongpi and Mekri Teronpi – for their love, sacrifice and right upbringing. The sturdy temperament that they have taught and instilled in me has made it possible for me to go through the rigours of this academic work. May they rest in peace at the bosom of the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

"Absent from the body, present with the Lord. We loved them a lot but God loved them more"

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis is indebted to many individuals and institutions whose precious contributions were imperative for its completion. Therefore, I wish to express my gratitude and sincere thanks to all those well-wishers out there who made the environment conducive for me to undertake and actualize this task.

Most importantly, I want to express my deep appreciation and thanks to the Almighty God, the giver and sustainer of my life. I owe this achievement to You and let all the glory be ascribed unto You, O Lord.

I remain forever grateful to the Vice Chancellor of Assam University Professor Somnath Das Gupta for bringing a milieu for serious academic work. Assam University, Silchar has been a veritable place for shaping my future in many ways. May God continue to uphold the Vice Chancellor and members of his family in the days to come. My gratitude also goes to the Pro Vice Chancellor Prof. Bhuleswar Mate, Prof (late) Ramendu Bhattacharjee and Prof D.K. Pandiya, of Assam University, Diphu Campus. I am also indebted to the Deputy Registrar of AUDC Dr. Subhajit Choudhary for his encouragement, contribution and support.

I sincerely appreciate the valuable comments and encouragement of Dr. K.C. Das, Head, Department of Political Science, AUDC, Prof. J.D. Thang, Head, Department of Political Science, Diphu Government College and Dr. B. Gohain Roy, Principal, Diphu B.Ed College. Their encouragement, observation and counsel has not only invigorated me to persevere but has also amplified the gravity of my research work. I am, therefore, deeply indebted to them.

My heartfelt thanks to my Supervisor and Guide Dr. Bikash Chandra Dash for being my pillar and mentor throughout the bumpy journey of my academic work, without whose blow-by-blow direction this thesis wouldn't have come to the end of its destination.

My appreciation extends to faculty members in the Department of Political Science, Assam University, Diphu Campus for their encouragements and suggestions, which has immensely instilled in me positive vibes to complete my thesis. They are: Prof. Panchanan Chattapadhaya, Dr. Niranjan Mahapatra and Dr. Rajesh Seth.

My approbation also goes to faculty members outside the Department – Prof. S. Biswas, Dr. Anup Dey, Dr. Paul Chonzik and Dr. N. Singh who have profoundly contributed in one way or the other towards putting the lid to this thesis.

I am also gratified towards Dr. Jyotiraj Pathak, Associate Professor and Head, Department of Political Science, Bodoland University, Kokrajhar for incorporating my research related paper in two of his edited books namely – 'TRIBAL WELFARE IN INDIA' (With special reference to North-East India) and 'HUMAN RIGHTS IN NORTH EAST INDIA'. My heartfelt gratitude also goes out to the publisher Global Publishing House India for making my dream come true.

I would also like to thank my loving wife Lidia Beypi, who has always stood by me. Her support, patience, prayers and understanding throughout the duration of my research work has pep up my spirits. She has been the source of inspiration when I feel weak and frail, empty and edgy. Her strong determination has motivated me to complete my research in time. My special appreciation goes to my lovely son Rengthim Rongpi who was born while I was doing this study; I had to leave him for days and nights at the arm of his mother due to the demands of this study

The same gratitude goes to my brother, sisters, and brother-in-laws who have contributed immensely in molding me into what and who I am today.

Last but not the least; I am indebted to my in-laws for their perennial prayer, understanding and support during the course of my study. I also extend my regards to Jirsong, Kache and Esther who earnestly helped with the domestic chores during the course of this study. God bless you all.
