ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is not just a convention rather the present work would not be complete unless I acknowledge the credits of all those people who made it possible practically.

First and foremost, I am indebted to my supervisor Professor Adarasupally Nataraju for the guidance he has provided me throughout the research. I really could not have accomplished the study without his constant support, advice and unflagging encouragement. I am very grateful that despite of his busy schedule he has managed time to go through the entire work and suggested important changes and improvements, which I have tried to follow.

I thank from the core of my heart to all the faculty members, Prof. Nirmali Barman, Dr. Subhra Nag and Dr. Pius V. Thomas for supporting me throughout this process. They helped me a lot to carry out the work without any interruption, for which I am forever grateful. I also thank the non-teaching staff of our department for providing me all kinds of technical assistance.

My thanks go to the Librarian and staff of Rabindra library, Assam University, ICPR (Indian Council of Philosophical Research) Lucknow library, Banaras Hindu University departmental library and Nehru Memorial library, Delhi, for allowing me to access books and journals of rare usefulness. I am especially thanking the members of ICPR Lucknow library, for sending me the photocopies of some important books when I needed them most.

I wish to extend my hearty thanks to my scholar friends, Bishnu Borah, Manju Chutia, Monita Singha and Tapasree Das, for the support, suggestions and unconditional love I received from them in completing the work. My experience with them in past four years is really unforgettable.

Finally, I express heartfelt gratitude to my parents, in-laws and my whole family. It is truly their love, patience, and full support that made me to complete the work within time. In particular, I am indebted to my uncle Sadhan Chakraborty, father Milan Kanti Chakraborty, mother Uma Chakraborty, father-in-law Pradip Chakraborty, mother-in-law Shyamali Chakraborty, sister-in-law Paulomi Chakraborty and most of all to my husband Prithiraj Chakraborty, to them the thesis is dedicated.
