Acknowledgement

There are lots of people who have helped me in this journey and I take this opportunity to thank them all. Firstly I thank God for helping me throughout. It's a dream come true for me. He has given much more than what I deserve and it's only because of his grace that I am what I am today. Secondly, I would like to thank Prof G. P Pandey, Head and Dean, A.N. Tagore School of Creative Arts and Communication Studies, for providing me help and support for all my endeavours since the days of my masters in Assam University. He has always inspired me to work hard in life.

The journey towards my PhD has been quite an eventful. I am grateful to my mentor Dr. Silajit Guha for being there always and more importantly understanding me and my situations. He has always been kind enough to extend deadlines, guide me beyond the working hours and more importantly giving me the essential freedom to venture into my idea, while being grounded with the requirements of the thesis, thank you sir for being a wonderful mentor. Since Dr. Silajit Guha (under whom I started my research and carried out a substantial part of the research) has resigned from the institution, Prof. Mahmood Ansari has subsequently guided me till the completion of the thesis (as he has been the Co-supervisor throughout). He has backed me when I had to extend my submission timing due to personal issues. He has also helped me to understand the exact format of a research work in detail.

My family has been foundation to my existence. They remain so towards to my career and its advancement. My heartfelt thanks to my mother, my father who is no more and his lively guidance remains with me. It is he who brought me to the world of knowledge. Thank you Maa and Babu!

I would like to thank my brothers, sisters, sister-in-law, niece, nephew, aunty, uncle and all the close members associated with my family for providing me support whenever required.

I would like to thank some of my friends who have helped me and supported me whenever it was required. Some of them are Chirojyoti Bhattacharjee, Rajkamal Pandey, and Manoj Kumar Singh. I would also like to thank the publisher, the editor and the general manager of G.Plus, the English Weekly Tabloid where I work. Thank you Sunit Jain Sir, Koushik da and Swapnil da. I also would like to thank Bidisha, Kalyan, Jutika, and Gaurav for your support and help.

Finally, I thank all my teachers and strongly believed that this work could be completed by the help and prayers of a lot of people beyond these and from the core of heart I thank them all.
