Acknowledgment

“Gratitude is the memory of the heart”. It is not a single word to be exchanged but it is to be expressed through heart. I am taking this opportunity to thank and record a word of appreciation to those who help me physically and morally to complete this study.

First of all, I would like to thank almighty God for blessing and keeping me good health during this study. I hereby express my deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed guide Dr. M. Tineshowri Devi, Associate Professor, Department of Social Work, Assam University, Silchar, Assam, India for her valuable guidance, helpful suggestions, support, encouragement, and most importantly she has given all the freedom while working with her. Also, I’d like to thank my co-guide Dr. Tarun Bikash Sukai, Assistant Professor, Department of Social Work, Assam University, Silchar, Assam, India, for his encouragement, guidance and endless support during my study.

I would like to thank Dr. Subhabrata Dutta, Head of Department of Social Work, Assam University and Professor Gopalji Mishra, Department of Assam University, Silchar, Assam, India for providing encouragement and guidance for my thesis. I also take the opportunity to extend my sincere gratitude to teaching and non-teaching staff of Department of Social Work, Assam University. My special thanks to the staffs in the library, Assam University, Silchar, Assam.

I am also grateful to University Grant Commission for releasing the grants in time, without which the study would not have been completed.

I am also thankful to all the officers and staffs of Manipur AIDS Control Society (MACS), Awaken Artisan Shelter Association (AASHA), Social Awareness Service Organization (SASO) and Social Development Organization (SODO) for providing me necessary information during my study.

My thanks are also due to all the MSM respondents and family members for their kind response and answering all the questions and sharing with me extensively their experiences in life.

I am additionally appreciative of Mr. L. Surchand, for his endless kind support from the beginning of the initial field survey until completion. Importantly, I would like to express my thanks to all my beloved friends who always encourage, support, and comment on my research.

Finally, I am deeply indebted to my family members especially my father, mother, brothers, and my husband, without their moral support, encouragement, sacrifice and understanding I could have never completed my study. Thanks you all for your love and patience.

Thank you all for allowing me to take time off for the completion of my thesis.

Khagokpam Pramodini Devi
