

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Immeasurable thanks and appreciation are due to all those who assisted and supported me through this endeavor. Without the guidance and encouragement of my Guide Dr. M. Gangabhusan, Co-Guide Dr. B. S. Gunjal, Prof. Gopalji Mishra and the other faculty members of the department of Social Work, the study could not have finished and thanks for being amazing mentor. Thanks are due to other faculties of the Department for their professional guidance, encouragement, and support. Words cannot express my appreciation for the keen interest they showed in my work and their belief in me which was central to my achievement. Their compassion and empathy in my times of need was crucial.

I am grateful to all those who helped and supported my work during the data collection. In particular I am thankful to the Cachar Cancer Hospital and Research Center, Silchar and Silchar Medical College and Hospital, ICMR unit for their support in obtaining the research ethics approval that enabled me to carry out this study. I am particularly indebted to my respondents who opened their hearts to me during the data collection and shared with me the most intimate problems related to their living with this disease. It is my hope that the findings of this study will make a difference in health seeking and health related behaviour, care, and management.

I must also thank my Ph.D colleagues who have collectively and individually supported my endeavors.

I am thankful to my little heart, my daughter (Ayushi Choudhury) for whom I am blessed and I am mother today, who compromised with me very much, tolerated my scolding. My thanks are also due to my husband (Biswajyoti Choudhury) who has truly offered me unconditional support to carry out my work and have even been willing to put his career on hold for the sake of my career. I would not have been able to complete this study without his love, encouragement and faith. I thank him for always standing beside me. My beloved parents who always encouraged me to do this study well. They taught me the importance of education, of being a lifelong learner and encouraged me to continually challenge myself, even in the phase of failure. Their unconditional support and belief in my ability have helped me to complete this degree. My indebted thanks to my Ma – who never let me give up on my dreams and always believed that I can have a family and a career and succeed in both. Thank are due to Bapi, who was instrumental in giving me timely advice (both solicited and unsolicited). Thanks to my elder sister, Mrs. Debrani Chandni Bhowmick and younger brother, Debraj Kaushambi for always being there to encourage me and for their unyielding and moral support during the struggle to complete this thesis. I am thankful to my in-laws who helped me a lot, without their help and good wishes my outputs would have zero. Last but not the least my right hand (Uttam Sarkar), who managed my daughter, so that I could complete this study successfully.

Debrani Chandrani